California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

ء 🌔

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

California penal code 365 and civil code 54 define a service dog as trained to do work or tasks for the benefit of a disabled person. Persons with service dogs, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, ID, or equipment are not required, though service dogs in training must wear a state-issued ID tag. Interfering with access or harassing a service dog can be punished with a $2,500 fine and 6 months in jail.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info