Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Texas VTCA, Human Resources Code § 121.002 defines a service animal as a dog trained to help a disabled person. Persons with service animals, or those training them, are granted full public access. Certification, equipment, or ID are not required. Penalties for interfering with, harassing, or injuring a service animal can include a $300 fine, a state jail felony, or a felony in the third degree.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info