Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Virginia's Code § 51.5-40.1 defines a service dog as trained to do work or tasks to assist a disabled person. Persons with service dogs or service dogs in training that are at least six months old are granted full public access while wearing appropriately identifying gear. Certification or ID are not required. Interfering with or injuring a service animal is a misdemeanor.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info

Per U.S. federal law, a dog trained to assist with a person's disability can join them without a fee in public places like taxis, stores, hotels, restaurants, hospitals, and schools. No ID, equipment, or 'certification' is required. Only two questions are allowed: Is the dog a service animal required because of a disability? What work or task has it been trained to perform? It may only be denied if the animal is out of control or not housebroken.

Advocates for Service Animal Partners 855-272-7211 www.serviceanimals.info